

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HEADBAND FORELOCK

Thank you for purchasing our Headband Forelock.

Inside the pack you will have the Forelock extension in weft format.

Two strips of Velcro (they will be attached to each other so just pull them apart)
We are going to presume you know how Velcro works!

You can cut the strips of Velcro into two pieces so you can use them on another bridal as well. Do not remove the white backing just yet.

First, hold the weft out flat and decide which has the best finish for the front and back.

Then take one piece of Velcro (either the hook side or the eye side) and remove the white backing paper. Carefully place the sticky side of the Velcro to the front of the weft (the stitching that holds the forelock together) so that the top of the Velcro is aligned near the top of the weft.

Next position the other piece of Velcro with the backing paper removed (the opposite of what you have already attached to the weft otherwise the Velcro will not stick to each other!) and stick it to the underside of the Headband you are going to use.

Attach the Headband to your horse first and then lift the Headband slightly and place the two pieces of Velcro together so they stick to each other securely.

That's it, as simple as that!

Thank you.
